Considerations

01

ABA CANDIDATES

We believe the dataset is representative of candidates who applied for ABA services, not just those who qualified.

02

DATA CLEANING

We took client info only from those who meet the base income limit of $13590, according to the statesites data set.

03

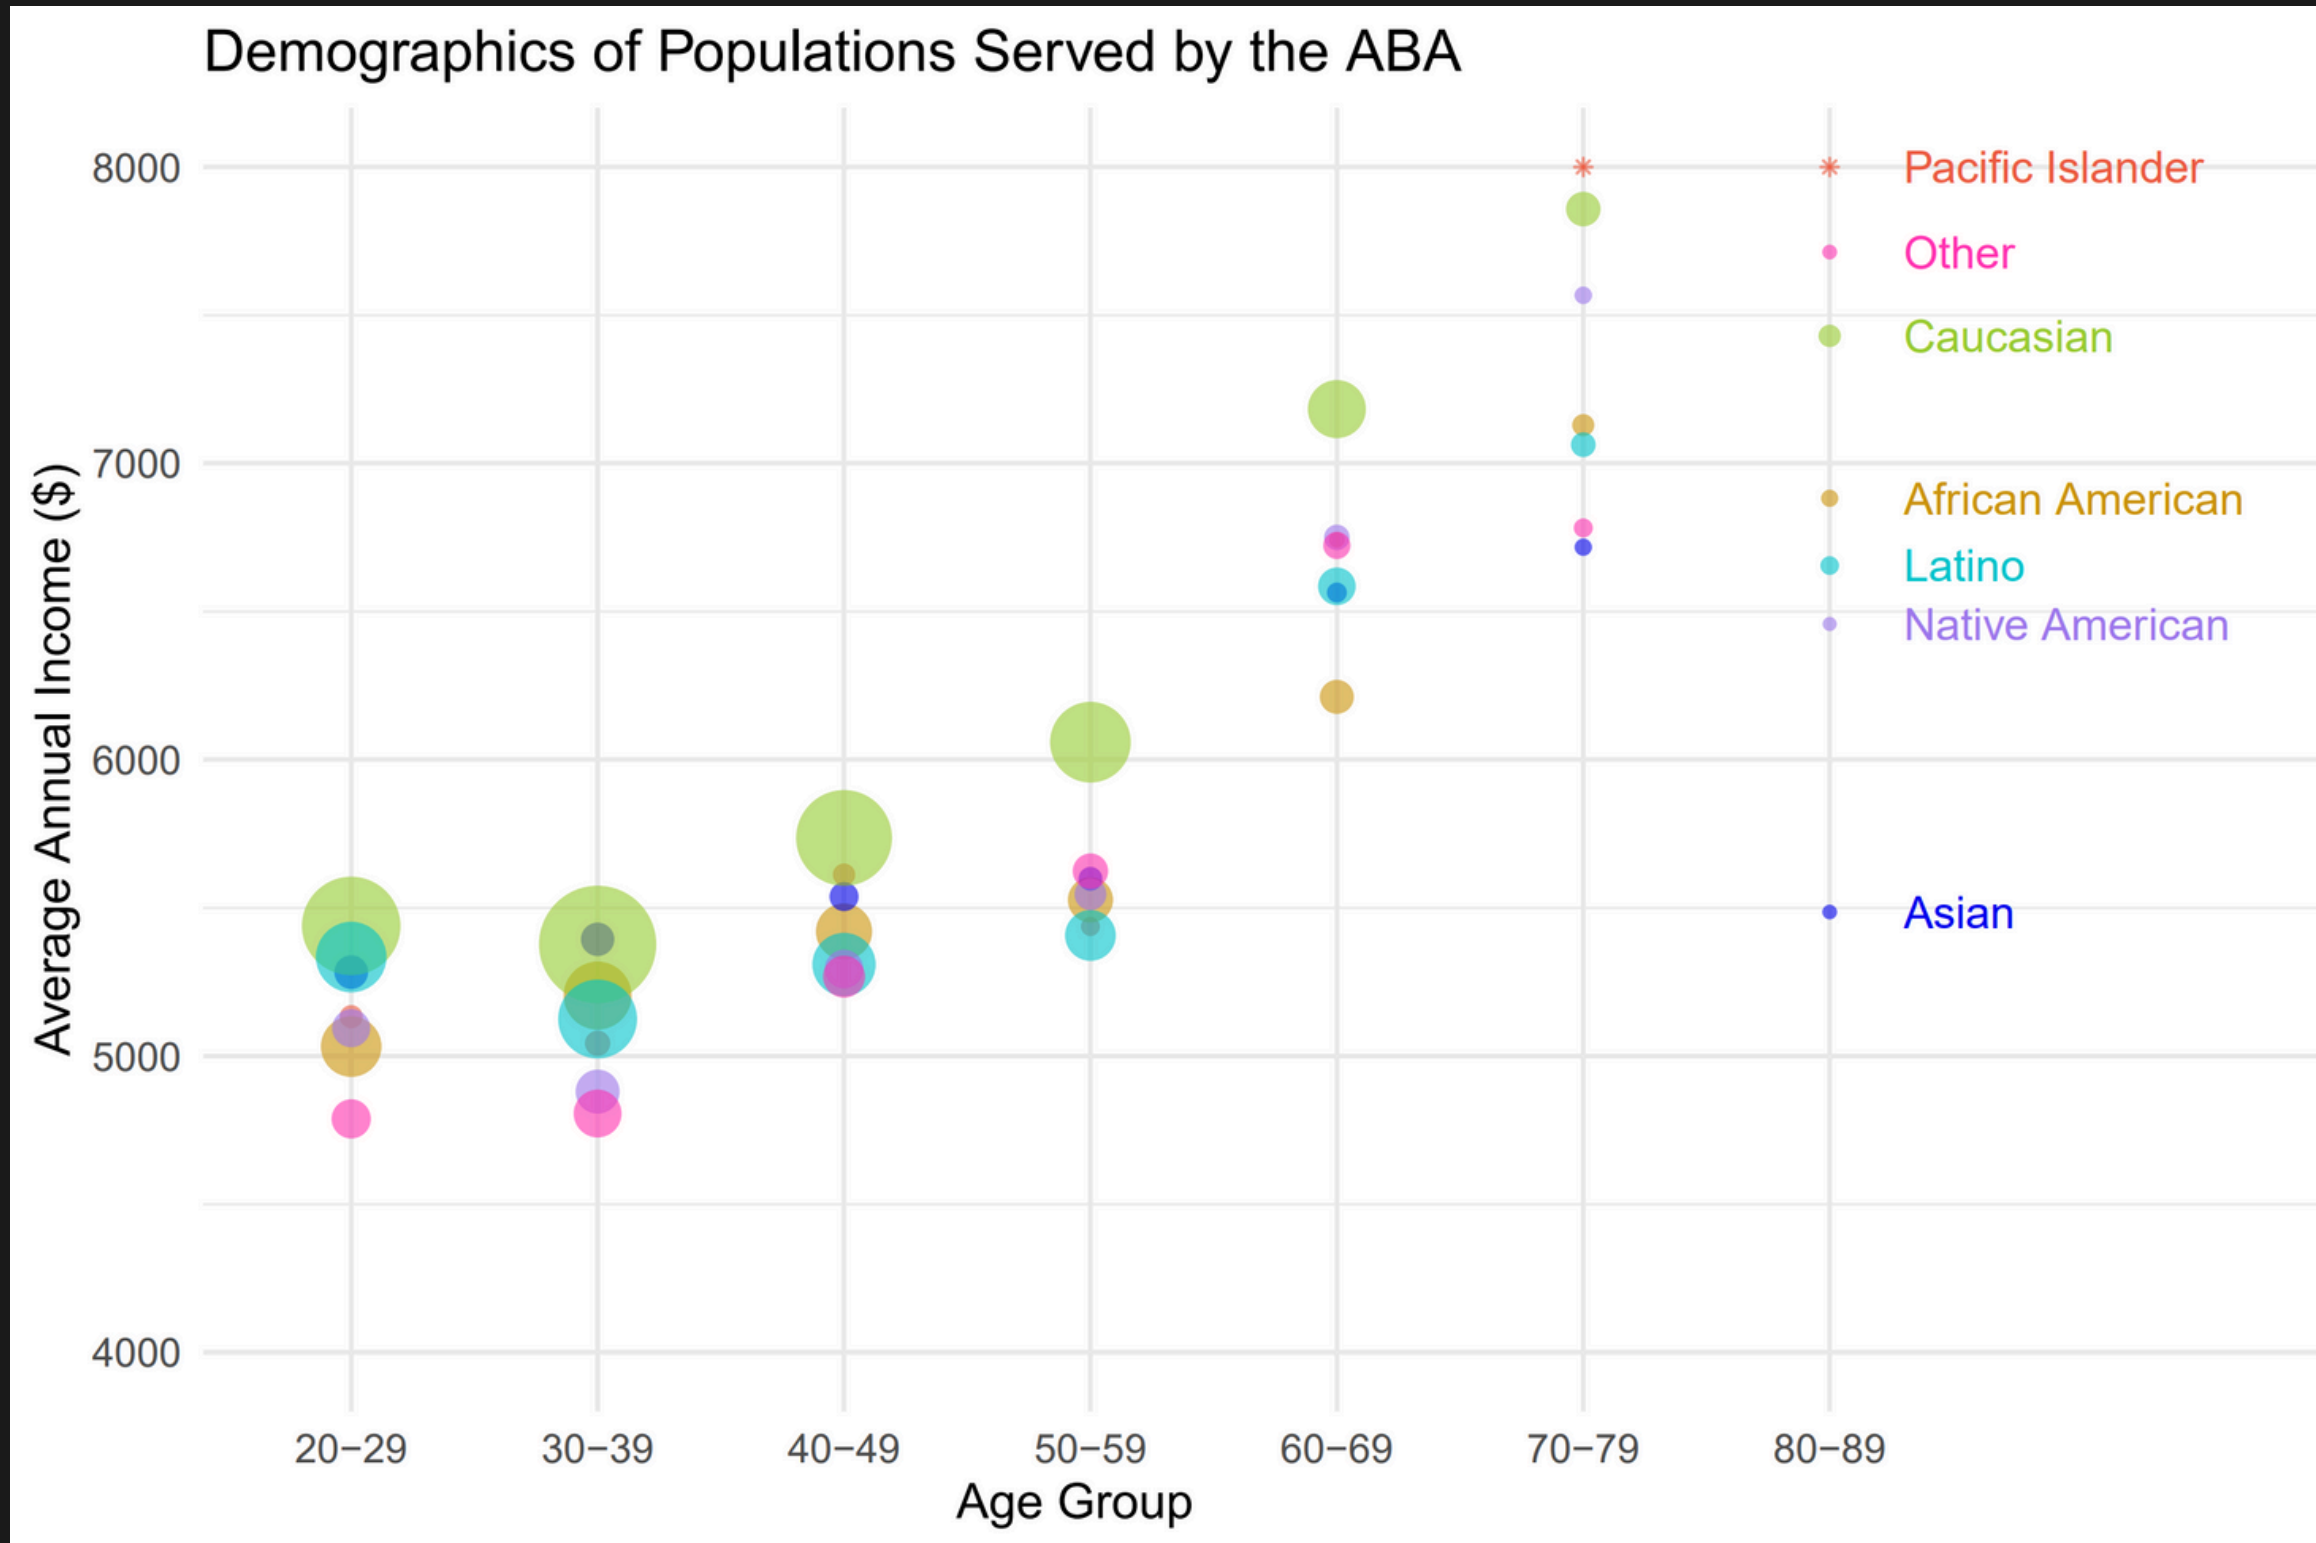

DEMOGRAPHICS

We chose to further investigate the race demographic of ABA clientele using the US Census Bureau race categories.

04

IMPROVEMENTS

We strongly believe the datasets could be dramatically improved to be more beneficial to interpretation.

Conclusion

Our data show that low income Caucasian and latino populations use ABA services the most, and should continue to be focused on. The data also show that Pacific Islander and Asian populations are underserved by the ABA, so outreach strategies should be developed to better serve these groups.

70-79 and 80-89 Pacific Islander dots were brought down to better improve data visualization.
